DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the amendment filed on January 03, 2007.
2. Claims 63, 68 and 72-73 are amended. Claims 1-62 and 74-75 are canceled. Claims 63-73 are pending and presented for examination for this office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 63-73 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claim 63, 68 and 72-73 identify distinct features, "a memory to store a principal rule that corresponds to a part of the conflict process rules, an inference engine to generate a complementary rule that corresponds to the rest of the conflict process rules based on the principal rule stored in the memory and to additionally write the complementary rule in the memory, wherein the memory stores the conflict process rules as a conflict process rule description file, wherein the conflict process rule description file is described in accordance with a predetermined markup language, wherein the conflict process rule description file describes a local rule applied to a specific printing device, and a universal rule description file that describes a universal rule commonly applied to a plurality of printing device is externally referred to: user interface for selection of print options, a conflict manager configured to resolve a conflict between the print options input via the user interface by applying the plurality of conflict process rules stored in the memory". The closest prior art, Hower, Jr. et al (U.S. Patent. No. 5,467,434) disclosing printing control apparatus for control a printing device, fails to suggest the claimed limitation as mentioned above in combination with other claimed elements. The above features in conjunction with all other limitations of the dependent and independent claims 63-73 are hereby allowed.
